

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Colored Teamster Killed Near Raven Rocks, Monday.

OTHER NEWS DOWN THE RIVER

Gamblers Following the Show—Fresh and Reliable Oil News from All Parts of the Field—The School House Well All Right—Local Gossip at the Oil Metropolis.

A terrible disaster occurred at Ben's Run, near Raven Rocks, Monday morning by which Scott Zane, a colored teamster, was instantly killed. The unfortunate man was driving a team hauling an oil well boiler, and in order to get the boiler to its destination he had to cross a temporary bridge over Ben's Run, known as Jane's bridge.

The team had front carriage of the wagon passed over the bridge safe, but the main portion of the weight of the boiler was on the rear wheels, which was more weight than the bridge was capable of carrying, and it fell with a sudden crash, precipitating the man, team and wagon into the gulch below. The man fell on his face against a tree and the heavy boiler on top of him crushing him so terrible that he was not recognizable, his head being completely mangled. Death was instantaneous as he uttered no sound, more than a feeble groan when falling.

The man was held so firmly that he could not be extricated until a team was hitched to the boiler and it was pulled away from the tree.

Zane was well known, as he was cook on the steamer Courier for several years, and had been in the employ of a man named Huffman for some time. He was well spoken of as a good, steady fellow, and his sudden death will be a shock to his many acquaintances along the river.

His funeral will occur to-day from the residence of his employer.

TROUBLE WITH SHARPER'S

Who Were Following Up the Reynolds Show—Fakirs Caught.

Lloyd R. Martin, a young man living near Bingsman, W. Va., has been following the Reynolds show, which was at New Martinsville Monday. While the show was at Mannington young Martin lost some money in a gambling scheme run by some fellows who were following the show, but not connected with it, and Martin came to New Martinsville to try his fortune again with these fellows, and Sunday night they and Martin had some trouble, and they were heard to say they would kill Martin if he did not stop following them.

Tuesday night after the show was over they got into trouble again at North and Main street, and Martin was hit on the jaw with something like a handbill and his jaw broken in two places. After they had hit Martin they started to run and could not be overtaken in the night. Young Martin was taken to the office of Drs. Cox and Lowther and his jaw was dressed. Yesterday morning Deputy Sheriff McElwain and Marshal McCasky went to Sistersville armed with warrants for the arrest of the parties. The officers wanted to make a wholesale arrest of the whole show, but found out they could not do so. They had their warrants endorsed by Justice McCoy, of Sistersville, and arrested Manager Reynolds and a trapeze performer named Moore, and they were brought to New Martinsville yesterday evening. The case will be heard this morning before Justice W. W. Selvy.

Messrs. McIntire and Blackman will appear for the defense. It seems to be the popular opinion that Reynolds and Moore are not the guilty men.

Mr. Reynolds said to an INTELLIGENCER reporter yesterday afternoon that this was the first occurrence of the kind in the history of the show, or the first trouble of any kind, and that he hoped that the guilty parties might be brought to justice. He gives the assurance that all who may attend the exhibitions will receive none but the best treatment.

Two men, giving their names as Smith and Brown, were operating a shell game on the circus grounds at Sistersville, yesterday when the chief of police happened to be on the ground, and they were immediately invited before his honor, Mayor Whittlesby, who assessed a fine of $10 against each, and as they did not have the price, they are now languishing in the city bastille.

SISTERSVILLE SCRAP.

Personal and Other Matters in the Tyler Metropolis.

Mr. E. Finley Kitson, editor of the Tyler Republican, went to Parkersburg on business yesterday.

Sam Wolf hit William Appens in the eye yesterday, and the case will be tried in Justice McCay's court to-day.

Col. McIntire, of New Martinsville, and August M. Campbell, of St. Mary's, were in the city yesterday on legal business.

R. L. Moore, of the law firm of McIntire & Moore, leaves to-day for Ironton, to visit his father and attend the reunion of the Ninety-first Ohio volunteer infantry.

Mr. L. A. Brenneman, a well known oil man, has advertised for bids for the erection of a very fine brick residence on Main street, on what is known as the Arch Thistle property.

F. M. Henthorne, of San Francisco, who gave the photograph entertainments at Wheeling Park Casino a few weeks ago, is at the Hotel Whittlesby and is entertaining the busy population "while they wait."

FROM THE OIL FIELD.

The Latest Reliable Intelligence From all Over the Field.

Gorman No. 2, in the Keenan field, was drilled in Monday morning, and is flowing 200 barrels. This well is north of the Dye-Brooks, and is the property of the South Penn Company.

The well on the Mieh of Frank farm, which is being drilled by the Oxford Oil Company, is now down about 200 feet, and is watched with much interest, as there is nothing between it and the Dye-Brooks, and it will tend to prove which direction, if any, the pool takes from the latter well.

There are now nine dry holes in the Dog Skin field, and eight producers. The producing wells are doing 2,500 barrels a day. The much talked of well on the school house lot came in on Sunday and is doing 120 barrels a day.

Capt. Jones's wells, in the Middle Island field, are now thought to be in the Keenan sand, and not the Big Injun, as it is unknown in the oil business for wells in the Big Injun sand to act as these have done.

Dye-Brooks No. 1 is now doing 300 barrels a day, and No. 2, 500 barrels a day.

The Shilo well, on the Johnson farm, drilled by Dan Johnson, was dry in the Big Injun sand, and the farmers of the immediate vicinity and others interested made up a purse of $1,500 to drill the well into the Gordon sand. The Gordon sand is very persistent, and if oil is found in this sand in paying quantities other wells will be drilled to it. As this well is to prove the producing qualities of the Gordon sand, it is being watched with much interest.

The Gordon was the paying sand at Mannington and Washington, Pa., and this well virtually proves whether it is worth going to in this field.

Thoburn No. 3, south of the Dye-Brooks well, will be in about a week, and it is looked upon as a leader to show which direction the oil takes from the Dye-Brooks.

The Conley well, on the James A. Garrett farm, drilled in by Conley Bros. and Johnson, came in dry. This well is in the Keenan extension of the Middle Island field.

The Belle Willis well of the South Penn company, in the Dye-Brooks field, came in dry.

Thoburn No. 3 comes in to-day, and what it does will greatly mold the future of the Dye-Brooks and Middle Island fields.

The Carson well, drilled by Twichell & Wise, was cased yesterday with 24-inch casing. The well filled up 1,100 feet at three screws in the second pay sand.

Wages at Oiltown.

A gentleman who is in a position to know says the following is the prevailing price for the various employees in the oil field: Drillers, $5 per day; tool dressers, $4.50; pumpers, $2; roustabouts, $2; carpenters and rig builders, $2.50 to $3.50; boiler makers and machinists, $2.50 to $3; gangers, $3; lease foreman, $2.50 to $3; bookkeepers and clerks, $50 to $100 per month; common unskilled labor, $1.50 per day. Not much hardtimes in this, is there?—Sistersville Oil Review.

A New Oil Company.

The Maynard Oil and Gas Company organized at Parkersburg yesterday by electing W. G. Way, of Marietta, president; F. R. Rose, Parkersburg, vice president; James D. Rose, Parkersburg, secretary, and B. L. Maynard, of Columbus, O., treasurer. The other member of the company is H. J. Maynard, also of Columbus. The capital stock of the company is $10,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $100,000. The company has 5,000 acres of land in Perry county, Ohio, adjoining the Corning field, which it will thoroughly test.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Police Abroad.

W. A. Hunt, of St. Clairsville, is a McElure guest.

Rolla Camdan, of Parkersburg, was a guest at the McElure yesterday.

James and C. Nolan, of Sistersville, were guests at the Stamm yesterday.

W. S. Sims, of Clarington, a well known merchant, was in the city yesterday.

Miss J. B. Knotts, of Mannington, was here yesterday, a guest at the Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Metz have returned from New York and Atlantic City after a two weeks' trip.

W. H. Brown, of New Cumberland, and M. Burlingame, of Sistersville, are at the Stamm.

E. L. Allen, of Gratton, secretary for West Virginia of the National Republican Tariff League, is in the city.

J. C. Wallace, of Morgantown; C. R. Deuel, of Friendly, and C. A. Weaver, of Moundsville, are at the McElure.

James Cahill and James Parker left on the midnight Baltimore & Ohio train for New York, Boston and other eastern points.

Mr. E. P. Richardson, mayor of Cameron, a genial man as well as an able official, was in the city yesterday on business.

Eph. Wells, of Sistersville, owner of the Hotel Wells, and one of the big oil land magnates of the lively oil metropolis, is a Windsor guest.

General Passenger Agent W. J. Robinson and Superintendent C. L. Williams, of the Ohio River railway, were here yesterday and registered at the Windsor.

Misses Mary and Martha Hare and Bird Robertson returned home yesterday evening from Columbus, where they were attending the convention of the Society of Young People of the U. S. church.

Mrs. William Leonard, of Parkersburg; Ed. Christy, of New Martinsville; Mrs. R. T. Gos and Miss Grace Gos, of Sistersville, and H. C. Roberts, of Mannington, are among the West Virginia people at the Behler.

Monday evening a very pleasant surprise party was given in honor of Miss Mattie Huggins at her home on Market street. Games and dancing were the main features of the evening, and a very enjoyable time was spent.

Women's Mission Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Wheeling Presbytery will be held in the U. P. church of Bellaire beginning to-morrow. The first session will be at 1:30 p. m. Second session Thursday night at 7:30. Rev. Dr. W. G. Moorehead, of Xenia, will speak Thursday evening. The third and last session will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Stewart and wife, who have been missionaries in India for fifteen years, will address the convention.

Many Applications.

Mr. Charles Helling, of the Northwood Glass Company, of Ellwood City, is in Martin's Ferry. He says it is their intention to start the works about the first of the month. The non-union glassworkers up there have organized a union, and about fifty union glassworkers from different places have already applied at the works for jobs, to say nothing about the numerous applications to Henry Fendt, the newly elected manager.

Teachers' Institute Next Week.

The teachers' institute for Wheeling teachers will begin on Monday, the 2d of September. Dr. J. P. Goody, of Athens, Ohio, and other fine instructors have been secured. The meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. hall. This will be held instead of school, and as the pay will be going on it will be a kind of compulsory education. One day will be allowed for attending the State Fair.

Why He Made the Inquiry.

Mr. Floyd Long, of Benwood, who wrote to the surveyor of customs at Peoria, Ill., asking about some mythical Winchester rifles sent to Bishop Spaulding as communion wine, asks the INTELLIGENCER to explain that he had heard and read so much of such things that he wrote to the officials there to satisfy himself, so that he would not get "mixed up" in a bogus story.

There is no doubt, no failure, when you take Dr. Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure. It is pleasant, acts promptly, no bad after effects. Logan Drug Co., Wheeling, W. Va., B. F. Poabody, Benwood, and Bowie & Co., Bridgeport, O.

FRUIT IS NOT SCARCE.

Yet the Season is Said not to be up to the Average.

AND IT SEEMS TO ALL COME AT ONCE

A Rush Just now in Orders for Cans and Jars, Especially for the Out-of-Town Trade—Nobody Laid in Any Stock Ahead, and People Waited for Prices to Come Down—The Effect of the Early Frosts and Subsequent Drouth was Overestimated.

Apparently the old joke that in the best fruit seasons the fruit is all killed early in the year is forcibly exemplified this time. In the spring it was announced on the best authority that everything was killed by frost. Not only were the fruit buds blighted, but the smaller twigs and all tender plants were killed. The outlook was very gloomy, and not a dissenting voice was heard from the general verdict that this would be the worst season on record for years. Everybody gave the best reasons for believing so, and everybody else accepted the judgment as correct.

As a matter of fact there have been few years in the past when vegetables and fruits were as plenty and as cheap. The poor, plum and apple trees actually break with many careful horticulturists have picked a large percentage of their fruit green, to prevent the limbs from breaking down. The green twigs which were "frozen black" have become objects of curiosity because of the way the fruit is packed on their sides.

There are two branches of business which furnish a peculiarly close index of the yield of fruit and vegetables—sugar and fruit jars and cans. Just now there is an almost unprecedented demand for all sorts of fruit packages—tin cans, jelly glasses, earthen jars and glass fruit jars. This, however, seems to be more noticeable among the jobbing trade than with retailers. A manufacturer of cans explained it yesterday. He said his concern had orders booked all the time for all their product for several days ahead, but the reason was that the outlook for such stock was so bad early in the summer that nobody made any cans in anticipation of the year's trade. Consequently all orders must be filled directly from the work shop. In the past few days he has had to refuse several big orders for immediate delivery. The trouble is that everybody wants such goods at the same time.

It is the same way with Mason's fruit jars. Manufacturers contented themselves with a small output early in the season, and now they can scarcely supply the demand, while jobbers who let their stocks run down have to wait on the factories.

Dealers in sugar say there has not been any special boom in their trade, but it seems to be picking up now. The city market for all such goods as are needed for putting up fruit is not in keeping with the demand from the country. It appears that in the last year or two putting up fruit at home has threatened to become a lost art. Last winter many canned goods of fair quality could be bought for very little more than the price of the empty cans here, and when the labor and all other items are taken into consideration it is no wonder if the average housekeeper prefers to take chances on the purity of the goods and buy her fruits ready canned. Out in the country, where fruit is almost literally dirt cheap, it is different.

This year many people missed a good thing by waiting for cheap fruits. For instance, plums were at one time a drug in the market, and pears were also, at very low prices, but recently they have been scarcer at much higher rates. Tomatoes retail now at thirty and thirty-five cents a bushel. It is seldom they get below forty cents, yet people are waiting, expecting them to be cheaper in a week or so. While the canning factories are buying all that are offered at twenty and twenty-five cents, there is little prospect of their going much below their present market price to consumers.

In Squire Fitzpatrick's Court.

Last night Charles Gilmore was arraigned before Squire Fitzpatrick on a peace warrant sworn out by Elisha Donley. He was required to give bond in $100 to keep the peace for one year. Gilmore then swore out a similar warrant for Donley, and the hearing was set for 7:30 this evening.

Yields readily to Hood's Sarsaparilla because it tones and strengthens the stomach and aids digestion by supplying pure blood.

"I had indigestion so badly that I was all run down and could hardly walk. Had no appetite and could not sleep. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken a fourth of a bottle I was very much better. I also used Hood's Pills and found them splendid, very mild, yet effective. I cannot say enough in praise for what they have done for me. Since using two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills occasionally I feel almost like a new person. I have a splendid appetite, sleep well and work with ease." ARTHUR C. LANTZ, Belleville, Pennsylvania.
